Dean to Be Honored At Banquet, April 27

DATE, GIVEN AS RADIO PLAY FEATURES TWO U. K. STUDENTS APRIL 7, CHANGED AFTER MEETING

C. R. Melcher Is Serving 26th Year As Dean of University Men

TWO GROUPS SPONSOR PLANNED FESTIVAL

Rank of Professor-Emeritus Be Conferred In June

A change in the date of the banquet which will be given in honor of C. R. Melcher, dean of men at the University for the past 26 years and head of the German department since 1914, was announced Monday, April 3, by the committee in charge of arrangements for the This change was made cause the Pres. Frank L. McVev. will be absent from the city on the date for which the dinner was scheduled. The committee deemed it unwise to hold the affair during his absence.

According to tentative arrangements the dinner will be held on Thursday, April 27, instead of Friday, April 7, as it was first announced. Members of the faculty and the student body, alumni of University, and other friends of the Dean are expected to attend.

This, in all probability, will be Dean Melcher's last semester at the University as an active professor. In June he will be eligible for transfer to the professor-emeritus

Prior to coming to the University in 1907, Dean Melcher served six years as professor of ancient and modern languages at Hanover col-lege, Hanover, Indiana, his alma mater. He received both his bachelor of arts and master's degree from Hanover college, and studied at the Universities of Munich and Leipsig in Germany. He holds doctor - of - law degrees from the University of Louisville and the University of Chicago.

Dean Melcher is a member of the Kentucky Academy of Science, Kentucky Education association, American Association of University Professors, Modern Language Association of America, Delta Tau Delta and Omicron Delta Kappa fratern-

The committee which has been formulated to work out further de-tails of plans for the occasion will be composed of Dean Sarah Blanding, Mrs. David Young, secretary to Dean Melcher; Miss Helen King, assistant publicity director; Gordon Burns, president of the Inter-fraternity council; I. C. Evans, dent of SuKy circle; and John Ewing, president of the Men's Stu-

Unusual Gifts Sent To Library

Henry Clay Featured in En-Gravings and Full Length Portrait

The University librarian announced today the receipt of a number of gifts, including a full length portrait of Henry Clay, donated by a group of the faculty and Lexington lawyers. The portrait of Clay is by Hoffay and is the original of one of the best known engravings of Clay. Also, a small marble statue of Henry Clay has been turned over to the library by the Mining department where it has been for many years. It has been placed in a niche in the main entrance of the library. Miss Katherine Pettit, of "Pine Mountain School" fame, has presented to the library three pieces of fabric which she brought back with her from a trip to South America. These textiles were woven by Pre-Inca Indians from vicuna wool and were found wrapped around mummies in the graves of the sand burial custom in the dry nitrate regions of Chile and Bolivia. The color and the weaves of these 500-year-old fabrics are of great beauty and distinction. Another portrait, that of Dr. Samuel Brown, has been placed in

HIGH SCHOOL WEEK

Kentucky will be host the week of April 11-15 to 2,500 high school students representing 276 of the leading preparatory institutions in the state. The event is the annual high school week, with the high school music festival, April 13-15, as an outstanding feature of the program. These students will occupy the University residence halls during this period as the regular students will have left the campus for the Easter holidays.

All of the boys and girls taking part in this program are prospective students at the University. During the time that they are the guests of Kentucky, an excellent opportunity will be afforded them to become better acquainted with the University. Buildings will be searched thoroughly for intimate information as to their size and content, and a complete tour of the campus most likely will be taken sometime during the week, if only by private parties of students. The University is unusually interesting to high school students. They dream takes and others try and trim down of the day when they will be able to matriculate at Kentucky.

The instructive and cultural side comment. Included among the various phases of preparatory school work are debate, oral inter- Gray. pretation, music, discussion, extemporaneous speaking, and oratorical declamation. Education in the state is given great stimulus by this high school week. The University is to be commended for its share in the praiseworthy work. The Kernel, on behalf of the student body, welcomes the students and their friends to Kentucky.

PSYCHOLOGY OF LIFE

When the psychology department announced last week that it would open a Personality Development bureau the news was received with enthusiasm by the student body. The move is in step with the time and will better fit those students, who take advantage of the clinic, for the psychological problems to be faced in life after graduation.

The service, which the department of psychology is to render will be free. Four hours are to be given each week by the psychologists who lead the discussion of the improvement of personality, vocational guidance, mental well-being, and other pertinent topics. Students must make appointments in advance by calling the department.

This Personality Development bureau resulted from numerous requests that came into the psychology department asking it to establish such a service. It is a great improvement on the old psychological clinic which for the past ten years has done similar work in a smaller capacity.

199 Miles On A Dance Floor

Would You Hike That Distance? No. But Dancing To Good Music Is Different

By JOSEF INGSING Although walking seems to be an awful task when one is not escorted and has no music to entertain one along the road, during the course of a social season at the University, it is estimated that some students walk 199 miles. But these students are escorted and have music to lighten their tread. Although the whole thing seems to be getting complicated, it really is easy. For during a social season there are held approximately 63 dances. A student attending all of these dances easily walks 199 miles. This figure is based on the estimate, published in a popular magazine, that one person walks five miles at a four hour dance, if he dances most of the time. Our present figure is based on a conservative estimate of three miles to a dance, since our dances are not started until 9 o'clock and do not get under way until 10 o'clock. This means that there are two hours of steady dancing for the co-eds. The eds do not get in this much dancing because of their time-outs for smoking and strolling about the floor. On considering the distance as commonwealth. three miles to each dance, means steps.

only 15,840 steps if the dancer took strides of one foot.

The number of steps taken during a social season at the University, seems to make absurd the idea that one would pay such an enormous sum as organization assess each member for a dance Nevertheless, students attend with great enthusiasm and dance to the merriment of some of the biggest music-makers of the nation.

At the University there are 17 house dances which no guests, outside of the dates of members of the fraternity may attend: 14 dinner dances; seven tea dances, given for a two-hour limit, and 25 guest dances. The steps of one person attending with a total of all the pove dances, including the dinner dances, easily make 199 miles.

By itself, this distance does not seem long for a night's traveling. However, when the distance is compared with the width of the state of Kentucky, which is 180 miles in the widest place, it is found that dancers would have a few miles to look over the towns traveled through, when dancing across the

First, the depression has welcomed back the simpler, more substantial pleasures of life. Most jig-saw puzzles cost very little, and yet they provide much pleasure, because by working them our inborn creative sense is satisfied.

The other important factor is the manufacture of jig-saws ranging in price from hundreds of dollars to less than a dollar. These fill the needs of men who have home workshops, and stimulate the interest in

Miss Wittich rendered support and balance which neared perfec-tion. Her skillful technique became almost orchestral in effect.

TENNNIS STARS ARE BEST

Although the first match of the 1933 tennis season was played on the indoor court in the Gym annex before a very small gallery, Coach H. H. Downing's varsity netmen made a nonetheless auspicious beginning by overwhelming the Danville Independents, 6 to 0, in the contest last Saturday afternoon.

Four singles and two doubles matches were played and the Kentuckians took all of them with very little trouble. The Danville boys have been practicing on an asphalt court; so it was no more of a disadvantage for them to play on the hardwood than it was for the locals. Play was started at 1 p. m., but it was after 5 and the lights were on. before the last of the matches had been completed.

No. 1 doubles match was played first; Howard Wilson and K. P. Smith easily defeated Tevis Cobb and Clem Colman, runner-up in the state tennis tournament held here last year, 6-2, 6-2. on his opponent. The No. 2 doubles were run off next, and Capt. Roger Klein, assisted by George Yost, defeated Charles Colman and Jack Thompson, 6-2, 6-2. Thompson was captain of the Bowling Green racketeers in 1923 and 1929, and is now principal of the Frokland High school near Great credit for the success of "Death Takes a Holiday" should go to the members of the stage crew and the electrical staff. G. L. Crutcher, the ever efficient stage manager, has produced a beautiful Italian interior which has been tastefully furnished by the properties department. The lighting effects, especially those used on Death's face and the "rosy lamp of illusion" which lights on the entrance of Prince Sirki and is extinguished at the wave of the Prince's hand, are perfect. Clarence Moore, the Guignol electrician, deserves great credit for the amazing lighting effects.

"Personality Through Character" Is Y.W. Secretary's Subject

"Personality Through Character," was the subject selected by Miss Augusta Roberts, Y. W. C. A. secretary when she spoke to the Home Economics club last night. The meeting, a special tea meeting was held at 7:30 p. m. in the Student room of the Agriculture building.

Miss Roberts discussed the questions, "Is there really a connection between character and personality in people?" Do we consider the "good" girl always "charming?" 'We must first have an ideal, something much bigger than ourselves towards which all the integrated parts of our personality should aim." answered Miss Roberts.

We must not be tempted to pattern ourselves after some person. perhaps an older sister, who during the college life blazed a path to glory. We must, instead, decide to be our best selves, regardless how different this makes us from other people.

This brings up the question, "Is it more desirable to become per-fect, or to be a unique person?" Being unique in this sense does not what thou art with all thy might, not piecemeal.

Miss Roberts went on to say that it is through uniqueness that we have personality. It can not be achieved merely by putting in definitely measured quantities of certain qualities which we admire. A stereotyped, uninteresting duct would be the result.

CASUAL OBSERVATIONS

By FRED H. SHEILS

If one is permitted to judge consequences from news stories, the coming men of journalism will have nothing to worry about from feminine rivals in the game. Theta Sigma Phi initiated only three and that shows that there are only five or six women, students of journalism, who are worthy of consideration by the honorary each year. Brace up, fellow journalists; the girls won't bother us!

"Death Takes a Holiday," was a recent success on Broadway! Very recent; nearly two and one-half years ago, to be more correct. However, that will have nothing to do with how the University players and their director are going to make a real hit of it in the Guignol theater. Have you seen it?

Followers of the Royal Pigskin (football lovers, to be plain spoken) will have one last chance to give vent to their enthusiasm. Several old stars of Stoll field warfare will return, don in familiar togs of battle, and clash with the 1933 edition of the Wildcat football team on April 7!

FICTITIOUS CASE Hears Talk By FACES CONTEST

Law College Seniors Will Make First Appearance

APRIL 10 IS DATE

Four seniors in the College of Law will present the fictitious, but none the less interesting, case of Danforth vs. Campbell, Monday April 10, before the state court of appeals. The question contested in the case has never before been decided in the court of appeals, and these young lawyers are making first appearance before this august body.

The four men who will present this case were selected in competition with a group of several in Dr Frank H. Randall's class in Practice court. All of those who competed for the honor volunteered The members selected were J. D. Bond, Ashland; Kenneth Howe, Lexington; D. L. Thornton, Ver-sailles, and G. R. Burkes, Alburquerque, N. M.

The latter two will appear for the defendant, an Ohio motorist, who is questioning the validity of a statute passed by the general assembly of 1930 making it proper to bring actions for negligence against non-resident motorists within the state. Formerly, where an accident was caused by reason of a nonresident motorist's negligence, the suit had to be filed against him in the state in which he resided.

Judge M. J. Cochran, in a recent decision handed down from the federal bench, held that the statute was unconstitutional. However this decision is not binding on the state court of appeals. Similar statutes have been passed in other states, and many of them have been upheld. For these reasons, the case presented by the students will be followed with interest.
